

Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 18 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Fog patches clearing to sunny spells. Isolated showers in west.

Today:

Areas of low cloud, mist and fog should slowly thin and break through the morning to reveal some warm sunshine. One or two showers may develop in the far west later, although it should remain dry for most. Light winds. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Tonight:

Becoming generally fine during the evening, with light winds perhaps allowing further mist and fog patches to develop. Eventually becoming cloudier in the far west towards dawn. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Sunday:

Starting mainly fine, with some bright spells in eastern parts after any fog lifts. Rain will gradually spread in from the west however, with some slow-moving heavy downpours developing later. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:

Probably rather cloudy and damp to start the working week, but gradually brightening later Monday and through Tuesday. Breezier Wednesday, ahead of some rain moving southeast later. Temperatures falling slightly.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.